

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

No batteries, no mods, no processors... The award-winning Aspri Natural Acoustic Reverb unit is back!

The world's first natural reverb designed specifically for the acoustic guitar has been redesigned and upgraded. Now available for both steel-string (Acero model) and nylon-string (Clásico model) guitars, this easy-to-install mechanical spring reverb allows you to yield rich, full, and lush results that use your guitar's own acoustic properties to enhance and amplify the reverb within.

Whether you are recording, performing, practicing or just wanting to get inspired, your guitar will reverb as if you were playing in a cathedral.

Since the reverb is NOT processed, the blend of your dry acoustic sound with the Aspri reverb is guaranteed to always sound balanced, dynamic, and natural. Musicians who have used the Aspri love it, saying such things as: "Can't live without it," "Inspires me to practice," "Once you use it, you won't be able to play without it."
